

TREVELYAN'S VICTORY.

An Election Likely to Result in Home Rule Triumph.

Belief That the Government Will Wait for Gladstone's Death.

LONDON, Aug. 3.—The land bill passed through the committee stage in the House of Commons this afternoon.

Patrick O'Brien intends to question Balfour in the Commons with reference to the watching of Patrick A. Collins by Irish detectives.

Trevelyan's victory continues to be of absorbing interest. London and provincial conservative newspapers agree in saying that the election is ominous. The Gladstonian papers are confident that it indicates an election would return a Home Rule majority. The same view is shared by the Ministerialists. The opinion prevails that the government will not risk a dissolution until the end of the natural term, five years hence, when Gladstone will be dead probably, or his power

NEW YORK, AUG. 3.—A special to the Times from London says: The election of George Otto Trevelyan by a magnificent majority in the Bridgeton division of Glasgow, literally knocks the breath out of the anti-Irish coalition. Nobody, either in Glasgow or London, had dared to expect more than 1000 majority, and at the National Liberal Club early last evening, the burden of the talk was to be satisfied with 500. Doleful stories of Irish antipathy to Trevelyan came from even from the Irish members who had gone down to Glasgow to try and throw the united Irish vote for Trevelyan.

about the issue of the fight. They have been snarling all along that the Gladstonians were showing gains simply because Tory candidates were put up against them instead of Unionists. With Evelyn Ashley, who is a typical Whig aristocrat, the son of the late Earl of Shaftesbury, and formerly an underling in the Gladstone ministry, they felt cocksure of reversing the adverse tide which the recent elections indicated. Everywhere last night the Tories have said: "This is the handwriting on the wall."

THE HAGUE, Aug. 3.—The committee of the second chamber of the States General, which had the subject of working people under consideration, has recommended that a measure be introduced restricting the employment in factories of boys under 16, and women under 18. Night work for such persons has been forbidden. Measures will be taken to provide for workmen's families in cases of old age, illness and death.

CHALLENGE CUP RACE.

The Milly Again Captures the Second-Place Prize.

Some time ago it will be remembered that the owner of the yacht Milly, not satisfied with the result of the two races, but had participated in against the Milly, for the second challenge cup of the Portland Yacht Club, again challenged that vessel to race for the cup, and yesterday their contest took place.

The day was anything but cheerful, the sun being in a late hour and showing the clouds in the west, but the breeze before the start. The wind was quite fresh from the eastward when the yachts got their start-off at a few moments after one o'clock. The fog kept clearing and shutting in the harbor during the run so that all that can be said is that the race was close as the appended table will show. The Milly was the victor in the former races. Capt. Stubbs, of the Milly, entered two protests, one on account of the race being called in when the fog was prevailing, and the other because the Milly had no money to pay the prize.
